

Happy Anniversary

Your Uncle with a carbuncle
A Maranda with no rights
You can get a rhyme at midnight
Or any time is right

You bring life all together
You make the darkness bright
That's because you touch my soul
An angel of the light

Who needs a new subpoena
I'll come talk and even see ya
That's because you are the one
'Round town I call you "special hon"

The cosmos stays in motion now
Planets do align
Your face can swerve a hurricane
You turn me on a dime

Whether eye rhyme
Onomatopoeia
Who could avoid ya?
We're all so glad to see ya.

You're my rhythm, cadence too
You make my dreams come true
You bless my life, the air I breathe
Each moment I'm with you

I'm grateful for your perseverance
Tomorrow and forever
Without you there's no rhyme nor joy
With aps you predict the weather

So happy anniversary
I'd I give you a canary
Much quieter though, would be a quart
Of glutens and a cherry.
